Reds Approved POW Screening, Joy Says

U.N. Negotiator Calls Communist Denial Open 'Lie'

Adm. Joy Replaced As Truce Team Chief By Maj. Gen. Harrison

MUNSAN Korea (AP)—The top United Nations truce negotiator today labeled an "out and out" lie a Communist denial that the Reds had agreed to Allied screening of captured POWs.

Inside the Panmunjom conference tent, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior U.N. delegate, told the Reds:

"Had the results been to your liking you would have enthusiastically welcomed the product of the screening."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il replied:

"It is inconceivable and nobody would believe that our side who is firmly opposed to the retention of our captured personnel by your side under whatever name could have agreed directly or indirectly to your so-called screening."

100,000 Won't Return

A recent Allied quizzing of Red prisoners of war showed that nearly 100,000 North Koreans and Chinese prisoners said they prefer death to returning to Communism.

The issue of exchanging prisoners blocks an armistice.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark, U.N. Supreme Commander, announced that Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. will succeed Joy as senior U.N. truce delegate Friday.

Joy, only remaining member of the original five-man truce team which began the talks last July 10, will leave the Far East June 9 to become superintendent of the U.S. Naval Academy.

Harrison has been a member of the U.N. delegation since Jan. 23.

Clark has not announced a replacement for Harrison.

Joy did not use the word lie inside the conference tent.

But he told newsmen Nam Il began "to lie and deny they ever agreed on the screening."

"That is an out-and-out lie," the gray-haired admiral said.

Joy reviewed for the Reds the secret staff officer talks on prisoner exchange and told them:

"You knew that screening was to take place, you acquiesced in its accomplishment, and only when its results was not to your liking and expectation did you decide to object to it."

The appointment of a two-star general, announced by Gen. Mark W. Clark, came as a surprise. It had been expected that an officer of Joy's three-star rank would be named to deal with the Communists at Panmunjom.

Joy, himself, picked Harrison to be his successor and Clark approved, said Joy's aide, Lt. Cmdr. Walter J. Ellis.

Harrison, a deeply religious man, preached the sermon at U.N. advance truce headquarters at Munsan on Easter Sunday, then went to Panmunjom to meet the Communists in a regular session.

59 Cars Derailed As Truck Hits Train

SAWYER, Mich. (AP)—Railroad wrecking crews moved into this small southwestern Michigan community today to clear 59 cars of a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train derailed last night in a collision with a light pick-up truck.

The freight cars were scattered over a half mile section of the railroad right of way here. Cars were piled six high in the downtown area of the small community located south of Benton Harbor, Mich.

State police reported no persons were killed in the spectacular derailment. Three teen agers, passengers in the truck, were injured critically and taken to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in nearby St. Joseph.

Police said the three were in the pick-up truck which rammed into the middle of the long Grand Rapids to Chicago freight train at a crossing north of here.

The fast train dragged the truck for 100 yards.

Railroad officials said the impact of the collision broke a brake beam on one of the cars causing the derailment of the other cars.

Fr. Duffy Condemns Foreign Policy In "American Day" Talk

Condemning "international intrigue" in United States foreign policy, Rev. Fr. John E. Duffy of New London, O., urged election of a president who will favor the rebirth of strong nationalism when he spoke to a crowd of 700 persons Sunday afternoon during the city's "I Am An American Day" program at Reilly Stadium.

The former Army chaplain criticized the surrendering of the U.S. to any "super world government which would make us vassals." He said "no flag must fly over Old Glory" and exhorted the American people to work and pray to achieve this end.

"If we want to avoid slavery, we must get rid of the internationalist intriguers" in the government, the hero of the Bataan Death March declared. The two presidential candidates who would be able to do this are either Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) or Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.), he said.

"Our empire builders have forgotten that God is the source of our origin and that love is the bond which has held us together." They are involving the U.S. in world situations under the "guise of the common good."

MacArthur had the right idea in bombing Manchuria to destroy the Reds' source of supply, he averred. Because the lone railroad from Russia through Manchuria was totally inadequate for supplying Communist forces in Korea, the enemy utilized Japanese-occupied factories in Manchuria to speed up the process.

MacArthur was correct in assuming that bombing of Manchuria would end the war, Fr. Duffy said, but he was undermined by the internationalists.

Generals Scapagoats
The ironic part of the Kojima Island issue, for which Generals Dodd and Colson were used as scapegoats, was that the Administration, with U.N. support, had given the prisoners of war self-government, allowing a POW governor to bargain with the camp commandant, he said.

The prisoners, taking orders from Moscow, have been causing riots and General Dodd, the commandant, was unable to take a free hand in stamping out the insurrection, the chaplain said. When Gen. Matthew Ridgway began getting tough with them, he was removed and Gen. Mark Clark, the worst general of the lot, was given command.

U.S. casualties are being falsified daily. A reliable source close to him, he said, revealed that the United States has suffered about 600,000 casualties, while only a little more than 100,000 have been reported. The limited action is costing us much in blood, he concluded.

Talk Climaxed Day
Fr. Duffy's talk climaxed a parade by American Legion bands and groups from Salem, East Liverpool and East Palestine and Warren and the Salem High School band.

John R. Callahan, dean of boys at Salem High School, gave a talk on "Our Future Citizens," commenting that the graduating class of 1952, because of living through two wars and observing at first hand their implications, would probably make them better citizens of tomorrow.

Members of civic, labor, veteran and fraternal organizations in the city were introduced. Rev. Fr. Edward Varble of St. Paul Catholic Church gave the invocation and benediction. Visiting Legionnaires were also introduced.

J. Arch Harwood, the city's safety-services director, spoke in behalf of Mayor Harry M. Vincent. The committee arranging the program included Legionnaires John Herman Jr., chairman, Archie Bricker, Judge Joel Sharp, John Litty and Lee Hollinger.

The annual observance is sponsored by Charles H. Carey Post 56, American Legion.

Will Address Lions
Two high school students will speak on "Why Salem Should Have a Swimming Pool" at Tuesday night's meeting of the Lions club.

The AP tabulation now gives Taft 375, and Eisenhower 337, out of 914 delegates so far named. There will be 1,206 delegates to the GOP convention, with 604 needed to nominate.

President Truman set off a drive for a vigorous civil rights plank in the Democratic platform with a Saturday night speech to the Americans for Democratic Action.

Truman demanded enactment of proposals he has submitted to Congress for a Fair Employment Practices Commission with enforcement powers to prevent racial job discrimination. This is the issue that stirred up a Southern Democratic revolt in the 1948 presidential race.

The President's call for not retreat from the 1948 Democratic platform—civil rights and all else—may have knocked out a plan by Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney for a compromise on the issue this year.

The ADA will make no endorsement of a presidential candidate until after the major party nominating conventions in July.

Delegates to the ADA convention voted unanimously yesterday to defer action because to do otherwise, a political policy statement said, would "weaken our strength at the national conventions" in Chicago.

British Seen Ready To Drop China Investment

800 Million Dollar Holdings To Be Left To Chinese Reds

LONDON (AP)—Worn out by almost three years of constant Communist harassment, British business today was reported planning to abandon its 800 million dollar

LONDON (AP)—Britain told Red China today remaining British businessmen in China have decided to close down or dispose of their 840 million dollar investment and quit the country.

The former Army chaplain criticized the surrendering of the U.S. to any "super world government which would make us vassals." He said "no flag must fly over Old Glory" and exhorted the American people to work and pray to achieve this end.

London newspapers said Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will tell Parliament tomorrow that British businessmen see no use trying to hang on in the vast Far Eastern country where, until the Reds took over, they had been dominant figures in foreign trade for more than 200 years.

British holdings in China are estimated at 300 million pounds ($40 million dollars). The newspaper reports said the British owners will try to sell the holdings to Chinese government agencies but that no one is optimistic.

Chances Seen Small

"The Foreign Office thinks the chances of the companies getting compensation for their abandoned property are very small," said the Daily Express.

The Communists ordered the seizure of all American properties on the Chinese mainland at the end of 1950. No compensation was paid.

The Reds have seized outright only one British holding, however, the Asiatic Petroleum Co., in April 1951. This was in retaliation for British seizure in Hong Kong of a tanker formerly owned by the Chinese nationalist government and claimed by the Reds.

The firms included some of the greatest names in the history of trade in the Far East — among them, the British-American Tobacco Co., the Shell Oil Co., Butterfield and Swire, Jardine, Matheson and Co.

Formerly 10,000 Britons ran the holdings in China. Now the scattered British colony totals only about 120 persons.

Getting them out may present keen diplomatic problems. Some Western businessmen have been held in the past by the Chinese Red authorities until their employees were paid vast "settlement" sums set by the Chinese themselves.

Cotton, Textiles Price Controls Are Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization said today price controls are being suspended on raw cotton and practically all textiles including those made of wool, cotton and synthetic fibers.

OPS officials said Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall signed the order this morning. Details are to be announced late today.

An official told a reporter the order sets 43.39 cents a pound as the point at which raw cotton would be brought back under control.

This compares with the existing ceiling of 45.39 cents for any future month. All of the products have been selling far below ceiling and officials predicted the suspension would mean no change in the retail prices for the fabrics.

Truman Wants No Civil Rights Compromise; Ike Nears Taft

(By The Associated Press)
A no compromise stand by President Truman on civil rights has put a new head of steam behind the free-for-all race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

And a weekend sweep of Oregon's 18 delegates to the Republican national convention by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower narrowed the GOP race between the general and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Eisenhower's lead in Oregon's GOP primary—where Taft was not on the ballot—and capture of all 12 of Vermont's delegates, put him within 38 convention votes of Taft in the Associated Press tabulation. Taft forces claim about 450 delegates.

The AP tabulation now gives Taft 375, and Eisenhower 337, out of 914 delegates so far named. There will be 1,206 delegates to the GOP convention, with 604 needed to nominate.

President Truman set off a drive for a vigorous civil rights plank in the Democratic platform with a Saturday night speech to the Americans for Democratic Action.

Brinks Robbery Suspect Killed

Police Fear Slaying May Open Gang War

WEST WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—An outbreak of open gang warfare was feared today in the wake of the shotgun slaying of Carlton M. O'Brien, named as one of the "brains" behind the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery.

The 49-year-old O'Brien, restaurant owner and erstwhile racketeer, was slain Saturday three days after he was tabbed by convict Alfred Gagnon as one of the men who planned the 1950 Boston holdup.

Meanwhile, Rhode Island Attorney General William E. Powers and Massachusetts Attorney General Francis Kelly scheduled a telephone conference today to discuss the story told by Gagnon and its relation to O'Brien's ambush slaying.

Investigators said that if Gagnon's story is true—that O'Brien was one of the "brains" behind the Brink's robbery—then his death may be the first of a series of gang slayings.

They theorized that if O'Brien was assassinated to insure his silence, then the person or persons who shot him also may be in danger of the same fate—for the same reason.

Detectives said O'Brien's murder could set off a chain reaction which might involve every member of the Brink's gang and any other persons who might have knowledge of the fabulous robbery.

U.S. Official Held Hostage At Scene Of Brazilian Air Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The U.S. embassy said today it has received assurance from the Brazilian government that all necessary steps are being taken to effect the release of a U.S. civilian aviation inspector and a Brazilian air force major held captive by a "wildcat" group of parachutists.

The embassy was informed that the Brazilian Air Force was sending three planes to the Brazilian jungle area where a search for the wreckage of a Pan American stratoscruiser had taken an entirely unlooked for turn of events.

In Miami, Fla., Gordon Bennett, chief advisor for the Miami International District Offices of the CAA, said 30 or more armed parachutists were holding Scott A. Magness, CAA aviation safety advisor from Miami, and Maj. Miranda Correa of the Brazilian Air Force.

He said they were being used as hostages in an attempt to gain transportation for the parachutists back to civilization from a helicopter landing strip 3.7 miles from the spot where a Pan American World Airways plane crashed April 29, killing 50 persons, including 10 Americans.

The pilot of a USAF helicopter messaged his commanding officer at Albrook Air Force Base in the Panama Canal Zone that he had removed all U. S. government officials from the jungle "except one (Magness) who is being held hostage by Brazilian parachutists."

He said he was forced to fly supplies to the armed group at the threat of death to Magness.

Bennett said the unauthorized expedition, led by Lino De Mattos, a deputy from the state of Sao Paulo, had been sponsored and financed by Adhemar De Barros, a former governor of Sao Paulo and mentioned as a possible candidate for president of Brazil in the next election.

No further information was available here, but it was known that there was conflict between the official expedition to the scene of the crash and the volunteer group, which was called a "Solitary Caravan."

The De Barros group had been urged not to attempt to journey but it parachuted into the jungle a few days ahead of the official party.

Final rites for the victims were held at the scene yesterday. Because of the difficulty of removal from the terrain and condition of the bodies, officials ordered immediate burial.

Five Motorists Held By Patrol After Other Accidents

Eight persons were injured in four of the eight district traffic mishaps investigated by State Highway Patrolmen over the weekend.

At 8:15 a.m. Sunday cars driven by Mrs. Esther Hively, 35, of RD 3, Canfield and Charles L. Zimmerman, 48, also of RD 3, Canfield collided headon on the Knauf Rd., a half-mile south of the junction of that road with Route 62.

Mrs. Hively sustained multiple lacerations and contusions; Mrs. Charles Zimmerman, 47, sustained lacerations of the face; David Hively, 3, sustained lacerations of the forehead and Robert Hively, 10, sustained lacerations of the head and a possible fracture of the skull.

Also injured were Mr. Zimmerman, abrasions of the right knee and neck, and Billy Hively, 7, lacerations of the face.

The victims were brought to Salem City Hospital where Mrs. Zimmerman, Mrs. Hively and David Hively are in "fairly good" condition and Robert Hively is in good condition.

Route 14 Collision

Cars driven by Mrs. Helen Stewart, 53, of Springfield, Pa., and Charles F. McGuire, 54, of Youngstown collided at 3:34 p.m. Sunday on Route 14, about six miles northwest of Salem.

Harry Stewart, 56, husband of the woman driver, sustained fractures of the right leg and right arm and was brought to the Central Clinic where his condition is reported "fairly good" today.

McGuire was arrested by patrolmen for failure to yield the right of way.

Cited After Mishap

E. J. Morse, 25, of Columbiana was cited by patrolmen for reckless operation after his car collided with an auto driven by Mildred J. Hepler, 54, of 1250 S. Lincoln Ave. at 10:01 a.m. Sunday on Route 14, just east of Salem.

Mrs. Lois A. Morse, 23, of Columbiana sustained lacerations of both elbows and the right knee and was treated at the Salem City Hospital.

John A. Motley, 43, of Steubenville sustained abrasions of the forehead at 11:43 p.m. Saturday when his car struck the rear of an auto operated by Robert C. Boring of Wheeling, W. Va. on Route 14, a mile north of the Mahoning-Columbiana County Line. Motley was brought to Salem City Hospital where his condition is reported good today.

He was cited by patrolmen for reckless operation.

Three Others Arrested

No one was injured in any of the four single-car mishaps investigated by patrolmen but three of the drivers were arrested.

At 3:45 p.m. Saturday a car driven by Norman A. Weaver, 57, of East Liverpool went out of control and overturned on the Y & O Rd. near East Liverpool. Weaver was cited for reckless operation.

George F. Cope, 21, of Negley lost control of his car at 7:45 p.m. Saturday on Route 170, two miles north of the junction of Routes 154 and 170, causing it to leave the road and roll over. Cope also was arrested for reckless operation.

At 10:30 p.m. Saturday Joseph L. Sprankle, 18, of East Palestine lost control of his auto on Route 7, three miles north of Routes 7 and 154, causing it to go off the left side of the highway and hit the side of a house. He, too, was arrested for reckless driving.

At 10:30 a.m. Sunday a car driven by Robert Sheely, 22, of RD 1, Canfield went out of control on the Georgetown Rd., six miles southeast of Salem, left the road and overturned.

Wonder Drug Plant
Workers End Strike

PEARL RIVER (AP) — A compromise wage agreement early today brought an end to a picket-line siege at the Lederle Laboratories, where an airlift was used to feed self-imprisoned plant workers and the research animals.

Automobiles and employees started moving in and out of the plant through token picket lines only a few minutes after federal mediator Thomas G. Daugherty announced the settlement.

The strike started Wednesday, and on Thursday the company reported picket line disorders.

Since then, no one had gone through the picket lines, and two small planes were used to take food supplies to the 400 humans and half million animals in the plant.

Production had ceased at the 400-acre Lederle establishment, the world's only producer of the wonder drug Aureomycin. Those camped inside the plant maintained research tests into such diseases as cancer, poliomyelitis and tuberculosis.

Daugherty said an eight-cent-an-hour across the board wage increase had been reached at an all-night, 14-hour bargaining session between representatives of the company and the AFL Chemical Workers Union.

Experts agree that the most dangerous speed for a blowout is between 45 and 60 miles an hour. At higher speed, the centrifugal force holds the tire up somewhat.

Bricker Says
U.N. Tries To Rule Thoughts

COLUMBUS (AP)—Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) yesterday told a group of Ohio newspapermen the United Nations is attempting to impose universal thought control.

He addressed the 20th annual convention of the Blue Pencil Club, sponsored by the School of Journalism at Ohio State University.

Bricker attacked Article 14 of the UN Human Rights Covenant saying it would impose "undefined penalties, liabilities and restrictions" on the press in the following vaguely defined circumstances:

"(If necessary) for the protection of national security, public order, safety, health or morals, or of the rights, freedoms or reputations of others."

He said such control of the press would result in thought control and be "legalization of tyranny."

Bricker said the United Nations "is suffering from a disease which afflicts every bureaucracy . . . an insatiable lust for power."

He told newsmen that withdrawal from the UN "is an available remedy and one which will be used ultimately by ourselves and others in response to repeated usurpation of power."

$2,000 Wasted, Or—

Mayor Harry Vincent's announcement that it will cost about $2,000 to conduct the city's annual spring cleanup, brings several things to mind.

That much money could be diverted to a more urgent project—the summer playgrounds—if all of Salem's citizens rolled up their sleeves and hauled their own winter's accumulation of junk to the city dump. Some people do anyway.

But for those who are in the habit of depending on the city trucks to make their annual appearance, it would be a noble civic gesture if they would call up the mayor and say, "Forget it, Mr. Mayor; we'll personally see to it that our refuse is hauled away."

Then, we imagine, City Council could hardly say, "We don't have any extra money for playground operations this summer."

Two thousand dollars spent in several days to finance the traditional Cleanup Days certainly would do more good if it were expended over a three-month period to operate schoolground playlots which last year had a record total attendance of 5,882 youngsters.

Another potential source of revenue for playgrounds, although not wholly adequate, is the bicycle license fees. Since the dollar license fee is paid by the boys and girls who own the bikes, why shouldn't City Council channel these funds into a summer playground fund instead of dumping the money into the general fund and have it disappear overnight.

MacArthur And Dulles

Whether or not Gen. Douglas MacArthur and John Foster Dulles are talking about the same idea is a political puzzle at the moment.

But these two Republican figures—the first a general of the armies, the second a leading spokesman in the field of international relations—are describing the same danger in foreign policy.

MacArthur warns against the danger of a garrison state set up and maintained under the excuse of imminent national danger. Dulles warns against the danger of a foreign policy which attempts to offset every move of the Communist conspiracy with a costly plan of military containment.

Thus, both men are talking about the problem of America's reaction from the Communist threat and how to forestall a proposed solution which might make the problem worse, instead of better.

They are saying, in effect, that the Truman administration's foreign policy thinking is too shallow to be reliable; that vastly more is required for national security than an endless series of counter-moves which are dictated by the Kremlin's initial moves.

They are suggesting that the Truman administration's grasp of the international problem is not strong enough to assure American safety; that this nation is in danger of being dragged into a morass of militarism from which there would be no escape.

High Cost Of Gratitude

No one can or will argue that the latest military pay bill passed by the House is too generous in its increases, even though they total more than half a billion dollars.

Nor will anyone object to the decision of the House Veterans Committee to recommend a new "bill of rights" for men who entered the armed forces after June 27, 1950. This would cost about a billion dollars a year.

These are recognition of the invaluable service performed by the men who make up the military forces of the United States—minimum recognition. It is only proper, however, to be aware that this is the only country which acknowledges that this kind of recognition is due and can afford to pay it.

The high cost of gratitude is a substantial item in the estimated cost of approximately $45 billion for military services and veterans' service and benefits in the fiscal year now ending. It is one of the reasons why as cautious an American as John Foster Dulles can say with deep conviction that the United States must find a cheaper way to security than the road it has been following.

It is unthinkable that American fighting men should be treated the way a Russian soldier is treated. This country has outgrown the subsistence policy of military service. But unless it quickly becomes thinkable that a higher quality of American statesmanship can think of something besides overwhelming a potential enemy with weapons, there eventually must be an acute shortage of wherewithal.

With the 1952 cars out, we hear more and more about better autos—but nothing about better drivers.

Silverware to match is the proper thing, says an ad. Who wants to go to the same restaurant all the time?

Value Of Thrift

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON

It's The Basis Of American Economy

A college in Minnesota recently held a forum on the subject of "Thrift—Basis of the American Economy." On the panel were a member of the college's economics and business administration department, a banker, the trustee of a philanthropic foundation and a college student.

The panel was somewhat shocked to find that the students were not too concerned with the personal thrift and the habit of saving. In fact, most of the students seemed to be relying on someone else—government, employers or relatives—to provide for their future security.

THIS TENDENCY toward dependency and away from personal thrift and independence has become widespread in recent years. It is one of the most dangerous diseases in the body of our free nation. No person can be truly free and at the same time be dependent on someone else. The habit of thrift is a great national asset, providing the fountainhead for progress. To an individual, it is an indispensable foundation stone in the building and maintaining of high moral character and real personal security.

In contrast to the attitude of the student body at the Minnesota college is the inspiring story of what is being done about thrift in two public schools in New Orleans. More than 75,000 youngsters in those 135 schools have personal bank accounts totalling more than $1,000,000. They all have begun to learn of the rewards of personal thrift as they are building the fundamental characteristics that will help them achieve personal security and happiness in their adult life.

This pioneering project in thrift was originated by the Progressive Bank and Trust Company and its progressive president, Billy Fischer, just three years ago. Bill Fischer believes that true progressiveness means, among other things, the improvement and extension of the basic American virtues. He has brought the virtue of thrift into the everyday life of these thousands of youngsters from 6 to 18 years of age. Some of the results are thrilling.

When Fischer first suggested that a bank president ought to go into the primary and secondary public school classrooms and solicit depositors from among the small fry, many other bankers laughed. But not for long. Fischer didn't necessarily solicit depositors. He went into the schools primary to promote thrift. He got the attention of the school administrators and teachers, and then began to talk thrift to the pupils.

THE BOYS AND GIRLS began to save their pennies and nickles. They even began to seek odd jobs around their neighborhood and from their own parents. They learned that money isn't created by pressing a button. They developed an understanding of its value, the responsibility that goes with it, and wholesome respect for work. Fischer encouraged them to save their money by depositing it in his bank. And very soon the bank was being overrun with kiddies hardly tall enough to get a teller's attention. The first year 3,000 school-kid depositors banked $37,000 with Fischer's Progressive Bank and Trust Company. The cost of handling the present 75,000 kid-bit accounts is heavy, but Fischer's board of directors recognizes the project as a valuable public service—and one that some day will pay rich dividends.

He continued to push the idea. In the school classroom he says to the youngsters: "It makes no difference how poor you are or how little you now have. This is the land of opportunity. Hard work and thrift are the ways to get ahead and to gain people's respect. If you start saving it will become a lifetime habit you won't easily lose. Our free enterprise system was made possible through the use of savings and borrowed capital. The money you save is important to you and your country."

THE PROGRESSIVE BANK now has a special department for its young depositors. In the 135 schools participating, Bank Day is observed each week. The children bring their cherished pass books and their coins. Each pass book is placed in an envelope with its deposit, thence into a bank sack which a messenger picks up on Bank Day and returns the next day with the deposits properly recorded. Checks are honored from one penny up, when endorsed by the parents. Two per cent interest is paid.

When these youngsters get to college, and later take their place in society, most of them will be self-reliant. They will have faith in themselves and a high degree of respect for the fundamental human virtues and the basic principles that have made this nation great. Billy Fischer's wonderful work ought to be spread throughout the country. It is a challenge to bankers everywhere!

Keep Moving

By TRUMAN TILL

While members of the American Psychiatric Association were swapping case histories at their annual convention in Atlantic City they heard a significant reason for 20th century jitters.

In a list of better-known reasons, Dr. Iago Galdston of New York City told his associates that disappearance of the American homestead had been a contributing factor.

"A member of a homestead," he explained, "learned a great deal about life and about life's ways. He had before his eyes a sustained parade of births and deaths, of courtships, matches and marriages, of successes and failures, of quarrels and reconciliations, of all the tints and shades in that spectrum of feeling, thought and wisdom that is encompassed in the arc of a full life."

He also had cobwebs, termites, a sense of being pinned down by tradition and more often than not a tremendous itch to shake the dust of the old homestead off his feet.

Unless he was lucky, he had the dry rot described by J. P. Marquand in his stories about homestead-ridden New England families. But all of this takes away nothing from Dr. Galdston's contention that rooted-down people had a better chance to be free of jitters than nomadic citizens flitting hither and yon at will, with no roots down at all.

The single flaw in the Galdston contention is its failure to acknowledge why the old homestead has so largely disappeared as a stabilizing influence. It was not planned that way. Its decline was the automatic result of a way of life in which people finally became free to go where they pleased—and most of them pleased to go.

At first, they went west. Now they are going everywhere. Rarely does a young man starting out in life assume he must stay in the same place. Even those who establish themselves as property owners do so in the expectation of moving on before the mortgage is lifted.

Gastronomic Interlude

It will, indeed, be pleasant when the primaries, conventions and personal quarrels are over and we know who are the presidential candidates. In the campaign for a

IT TURNED OUT that Luchow's was celebrating its 70th birthday and the place was more crowded than usual, but we got a table next to Milton Berle, who was celebrating his mother's 75th Mother Day or maybe it was a gag.

If there is anybody I would like to see defeated when he runs for president, it is this Uncle Miltie. I don't need any more uncles, but apparently my little daughter does. She adopted him, dated him, made him sign up, and when the clown kissed her on the forehead, she vowed she would not wash her face for a month. Imagine anyone falling for a guy like that when she has her handsome father to look at!

They had, on hand, their first menu, served on opening day in 1882. On that occasion, they is made. Furthermore, none of them hates Bob Taft or like Eisenhower, although they may favor one as against the other. They recognize that after July 12, they will support the will of the people in convention assembled.

On Mother's Day, I decided that I would drown my partisan sorrows in food. For the evening, I would forget primaries, statistics, communists, supreme courts, Taft, Eisenhower and Kefauver and devote myself to old-fashioned German cooking. The family settled down in Luchow's to toast mother who, Anglo-Saxon in her taste, orders incorrectly.

IT WAS raining when we left and no taxis were on hand. So I swiped John Ringling North's car and I hope he got it back in due course. A circus man ought to be able to handle such emergencies without making a federal case out of it.

It was all very refreshing and nostalgic and nobody worried about who would be the next president as long as it would not be a piano player. A violinist, we could take, but not a pianist.

Maybe, if Mother's Day came every day, we could solve all our great problems by drenching them in good food and drink and the sheer joy of living. I wondered, when my mind slipped for a moment, what would happen if all the candidates sat down to Sauerbraten mid Kartoffel Kloesend perhaps with a stein of Pilsen, if the prohibitionists will forgive me. Maybe, the candidates would not want to be candidates, anymore.

charged 75 cents for the whole meal; in 1952, they were charging $5.00 for the same dinner!

As nobody could rise, to say nothing about walk, after devoting ourselves to German cuisine, we sat and talked about those things that one talks about when the children are around, and an old-fashioned string orchestra played old-fashioned music which somehow we heard and enjoyed. A very good time was had by all and there were no arguments.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Low Blood Pressure And What It Means

Mrs. E. C. writes that she blacked-out in a store and soon after her doctor found that her blood pressure was low. She says also that she often feels tired and dizzy with pain in the top of her head and wants to know whether this is all caused by low blood pressure.

In answer it may be said that a few rare diseases can cause low blood pressure and perhaps one of these might have been responsible for her fainting, but it seems unlikely that low blood pressure by itself could have been at fault. However, in addition to Mrs. C., a great many people are interested in low blood pressure and frequently become much disturbed because their blood pressures are lower than what they think should be normal.

As a matter of fact most people with low blood pressures are well off and can expect a long life. There are few exceptions: there is a condition known as Addison's disease which, among other symptoms, is characterized by a low blood pressure, but this is rare and there are only a few other things which are accompanied by low blood pressure which have any serious significance.

There are several things which help to determine whether the blood pressure will be low, high or normal. The pump-like action of the heart is one. The elasticity of the arteries is another. In most cases of below "normal" blood pressure, the cause seems to be exceptionally elastic arteries and this is a good thing. For one it generally means that hardening of the arteries will be slow to develop and this in turn has much to do with the expectation for a long life.

It is hard to say whether there are or are not any symptoms which can be laid at the door of low pressure and nothing else. Some people (like Mrs. C.) who have low blood pressure also complain of lack of pep or some other vague thing, but this is just as likely to arise in the mind as it is from the pressure.

Even if the blood pressure should have something to do with complaints of this sort there is not much that can be done about it. There is no good, safe, way to raise the blood pressure and it is better left alone in most cases, unless anemia or some other condition is also present which should be treated on its own account.

Low blood pressure causes a great deal of unnecessary worry, and with exceedingly few exceptions the person with below normal pressure can feel lucky, and does not need to do anything about it providing there are no other signs of disease.

So They Say

Ulcers

By HAL BOYLE

They Give Sufferers Prestige

NEW YORK

Ulcers are what you make them.

The ulcer used to be the Horatio Alger disease. A man started off life poor but healthy, worked hard and honestly, and ended up wealthy and ulcer-ridden.

An ulcer became a badge of success, particularly in the movie, radio and advertising fields, although industrial leaders were prone to catch them, too. The big gag was: "Even my ulcers are getting ulcers."

But today the ulcer no longer is an internal medal of honor in the struggle to get ahead. Somehow the word got around that ulcers were the product of tension. That immediately made the ulcer the property of the common man. For who in these times doesn't brag about the tension he is under?

Not to have an ulcer now is a kind of rebuke of your way of life, an implication you have been cheating by failing to do your fair share of the general worrying. Even housewives, smarting under the criticism they have a soft touch, are developing more ulcers. Either that or they are just tired of hearing husbands complain about their ulcers.

SUCH IS the prestige of the ulcer in the business world that a friend of mine, stricken by sudden abdominal pains, went bravely and proudly to the hospital for an emergency operation. When he emerged from the anesthetic he learned to his horror that all he had undergone was an appendectomy.

"I was sure it was an ulcer," he said, shamefacedly, and pleaded: "Please don't let the word get around. They'll kid me to death at the office. Nobody but children get appendicitis anymore."

Ulcers are divided into two classes:

(1) The social, or fake, ulcer.

(2) The true ulcer.

The fake ulcer is by far the most widespread. It is also the better type to have, as it requires little or no medical treatment and has wonderful social advantages. It is a fine excuse to stay home from work. If you are at a party and the host serves poor liquor, you can get out of drinking it. If you are playing poker and get $100 ahead, you can grimace, clutch at your belt, and mutter: "Ugh, my ulcer. Sorry, boys, I'll have to go home."

After you leave some disgruntled loser may grumble, "That lucky darn fool doesn't have the brains to get an ulcer." But he can't prove it. That's the best thing about a social ulcer—people have to take your word for it.

THOSE WHO HAVE true ulcers rarely like to discuss their ailment with fellow sufferers, as that means they have to take turns listening to the other guy's agony. They prefer to talk to those who have never had the malady, just as old soldiers like to show their battle scars to bug-eyed children.

A veteran victim gave this description of his affliction:

"Having an ulcer is as near as the average man ever comes to motherhood. You feel like you are pampering a spoiled child.

"Ulcers have personality just like people. Some folks even give them nicknames. I call mine 'Aching Abner.' After a while you actually get to have a companionable feeling toward an ulcer. Why not? It is always with you.

"Ulcers are temperamental. Usually, they gulp milk like a calf. But some days I can drink three martinis and eat steak and fried onions and Aching Abner won't even whimper. Six months later if I even glance at a jar of pickles, he starts screaming.

"How does an ulcer feel? It feels like a little demon inside you is probing your innards with a blow torch. You have to fight like hell then to think life is wonderful."

But the sad fact today is that, unless you become a two-ulcer man, sooner or later the idea is going to spread that you are a shiftless failure.

Turnpike Called Safest Highway

Pennsylvania Road Scene Of 335 Deaths

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The famed Pennsylvania Turnpike has brought death to 335 motorists since opening 12 years ago, but its operators still claim "it's the world's safest highway."

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission declares it has overcome all accident hazards on the high-speed toll road but one—the driver.

"Our problem," says Chairman T. J. Evans, "is to protect those traveling in vehicles operated by safe drivers against the unsafe drivers and so far as is humanly possible to protect the latter against themselves."

The death toll on the superhighway has been climbing each year since World War II, but Evans says the climb is only in proportion to the increase in traffic.

The turnpike death toll last year went to 66 — seven over 1950, but Evans declared the fatality rate still showed "a marked decrease in proportion to the number of vehicles using the road."

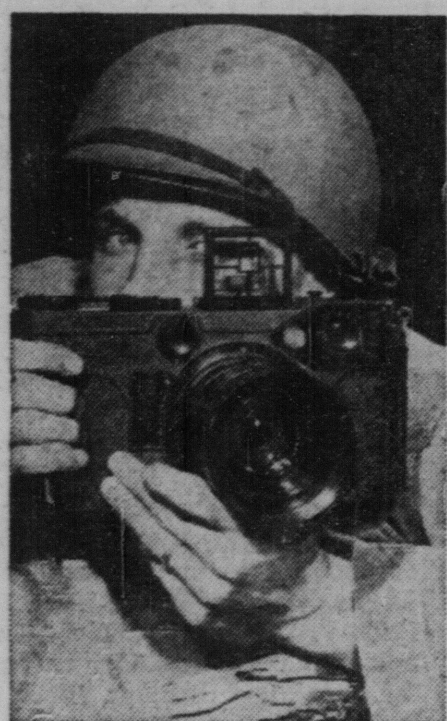

The world-famed toll road, first of its kind ever built, was first opened to the public in 1940, with 160 miles of uninterrupted high speed travel. Recent extensions since have increased its length to 327 miles, extending from the Ohio border across the state to the outskirts of Philadelphia.

The engineers who designed the superhighway went to elaborate lengths to embody into it every known safety feature. The result was a divided four-lane concrete highway bypassing all towns and having no intersections.

The construction lowered grades and pushed away curves so the road features a maximum grade of only three per cent and a maximum curve of only 6 per cent. The minimum sight distance at any point is 1,000 feet. A continuous fence bars all pedestrians and animals.

The state police maintain that the 70-mile speed limit on the road — 20 miles above the limit on other Keystone State roads — is too fast for safety. The Commission denies this.

"Our greatest proportion of accidents, our greatest accident rate, has occurred during the time when speeds were most restricted," says

THIS NEW CAMERA developed by the U. S. Army Signal corps can take 10 pictures in five seconds and each time a photo is snapped the film advances automatically and cocks the camera for the next shot. It can take 50 pictures two and one-fourth by two and three-fourth inches on each roll, and if fewer are wanted, the film can be snipped with a built-in cutter. Fully loaded and with four-inch lens, weight is only five and one-half pounds.

Gerard B. Gilbert, Turnpike safety director.

Gilbert says constant safety surveys have failed to find any one spot along the big concrete ribbon where there are more accidents than any other spot. He says surveys fail to show any particular type of accident predominates.

"We keep coming back to one factor — the human factor," says Gilbert.

High Court May Hear Rep. Brehm Case In Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court may not decide until the fall term whether to review the case of Republican Rep. Walter E. Brehm of Millersport, O.

That would be only a few months before Brehm's term ends. He is not seeking re-election.

Brehm's lawyers have asked the high court for more time to file petitions asking review of his district court conviction on charges that he illegally took campaign gifts from a woman clerk in his congressional office four years ago.

Brehm, who is nearing 60, was fined $5,000 and given a suspended five-to-15 month jail sentence after a jury here convicted him on five counts of violating the Federal Corrupt Practices Act.

CHRYSLER SARATOGA 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

ITS NEW KIND OF HORSEPOWER IS SOMETHING TO FEEL!

With its 180 HP V-8 engine, on 125½ inches of wheelbase, many people think the Saratoga is the best Chrysler car of all.

We invite you to take the wheel and feel what happens! There's a new sense of easy power, of reserve power that make driving a new experience.

Inside the engine are reasons for this. Its revolutionary combustion chamber develops more of the power in each charge of fuel than other engines can do. Its construction is both more sturdy and more efficient.

One result is performance, even on non-premium fuel, such as you have never felt. Another result is new long-term economy. It's an engine that scarcely forms carbon deposit at all. It creates less heat and develops less wear than other engines. It will last much longer, and stay younger on the way!

With Chrysler full-time Power Steering*, you execute every steering move with one-fifth the usual effort... drive every mile, at every speed, with five times the usual control! With Chrysler Power Brakes you need up to two-thirds less foot pressure... and still stop in many feet less than other cars can do.

Yes, behind Chrysler's new engine you'll find a new kind of car. Won't you come in and feel what we mean?

*NOTE: Power Steering standard on Crown Imperial. Available, extra, on any new Chrysler.

175 Attend "Calendar Party" Held By Trinity Lutherans

The calendar, from January's snowmen through spring, summer and fall months to December and Christmas, were depicted on the tables where 175 guests were seated at the "Calendar Party" Friday evening in Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

Mrs. William Bailey and Mrs. J. C. Bailey of the I.H.S. Class were co-chairmen for the well-planned affair. Mrs. Robert Warner played for group singing.

Each table was arranged by two women who also provided a share of the program. They were identifying corsages. All the tables were beautifully and appropriately appointed for the various months.

The winner, the March table, was arranged by Mrs. Russell Greenisen and Mrs. James Fife.

Mrs. Olin Muntz and Mrs. Wade Schaefer were hostesses at the January table presided over by the top-hatted "Frosty the Snowman" centerpiece with miniature replicas at each place. Red napkins and white candles added to the effect. Lonna Rae and Larry Muntz sang "Winter Wonderland" and Larry also entertained on the accordion.

The "Queen of Hearts" on a Valentine box between white and red candles and valentine favors were arranged on the February table by Mrs. Vaughn Nichols and Mrs. Gus Fick. Their program theme of "Sweethearts on Parade" was demonstrated by Lee Nichols and Lonna Rae Muntz. Larry Muntz and Barbara Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kilbourn and Rev. and Mrs. G. D. Keister.

Prize-winning March table was Mrs. Greenisen and Mrs. Fife was in green and white. An Irish colleen was in an ivy arbor between sweetpeas and green candles, and shamrocks and greenies were used to emphasize the St. Patrick theme. A comedy pantomime by Rosie Sulea entertained. Everyone sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Mrs. William Bailey and Mrs. Leonard Yates used blue and pink as the color note in their April showers table dressed up with a beautiful doll and umbrella, blue and pink candles, and small umbrella favors. Thomas Crothers played as Darrell Askey sang "April Showers."

Pansy corsages were the favors for those seated at the May table and a Maypole was the centerpiece arranged by the hostesses Mrs. Ralph Costlow and Mrs. Howard Moore. Mrs. Kenneth Lodge entertained with a monologue.

A mock wedding with an all-man bridal party was one of the highlights of the evening as presented by the June hostesses Mrs. C. W. Youtz and Mrs. Robert Warner. C. W. Youtz was the parson, William Bailey the bride; Perry Hilliard, groom; Vaughn Nichols, best man; Tom Pike, bridesmaid; Louis Moushey, flower girl, and Olin Muntz, ring bearer. All were in costume.

"Mocking Bird Hill" was sung by the group. A bride and groom were between white candles on the table and each place was marked with colorful bridesmaids dollies.

Mrs. Herbert Platt and Mrs. Norman Walter carried out a patriotic theme for the July table, using flags, toy soldiers and a large drum with small drums as favors. Contest winner Carolyn Lewis presented a demonstration of baton twirling.

Chenille lady, wishing well, pink candles in wooden holders and greenery featured the August table planned by Mrs. Lester Lehman and Mrs. Albert Ryser. Small wishing wells with tiny oaken buckets were favors. Thomas Crothers entertained with a piano solo.

School days were depicted on the September table with a complete little red schoolhouse scene, playgrounds, sand box, see-saw, etc. There were magic slates, balloons and lollipops for each one at the table arranged by Mrs. Perry Hilliard Sr. and Mrs. Thomas Pike. "Me and Jim and Joe" was the reading given by Mrs. Kenneth Stewart.

The old witch, stirring a "boiling" copper kettle was the realistic Halloween centerpiece for October. Orange and black was the color theme for favors and appointments carried out by Mrs. J. C. Bailey and Mrs. William Bailey. For their program Nancy Fife, pianist, played "Romance."

Thanksgiving was the theme of the centerpiece at the November table planned by Mrs. Nevin Halverstadt and Mrs. Glenn Whitehill. Orange candles were in milk glass holders and the favors were in orange. Miss Donna Stoffer presented a pantomime.

A clever sugar cube house was the center of attraction at the December Christmas table of Mrs. George Schmid and Mrs. Dalbert Thomas. The whole company sang "White Christmas" and Hilda Charlton recited "Twas the Night After Christmas."

The successful evening's program concluded with the singing of "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Home Building Gained During April With 108,000 New Units

Home building shot past the 100,000 mark in April for the first time in nine months as the nation's construction industry began recovering from mobilization controls.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports 108,000 new homes and apartments were put into construction in April, the largest single monthly total since last June when 132,500 dwellings were started.

In some areas, housing output doubled as the springtime building season moved into high gear throughout the nation. Declines were only registered in the South Central states.

As a result of higher housing output and further substantial relaxations of building controls, government officials are hurriedly preparing a revised estimate on 1952 construction volume.

Last year, the nation spent about 30 billion dollars for all types of building projects, and the figure was supposed to drop to about 27 billions in 1952 as a result of the defense program.

Officials now feel that construction spending will come closer to matching outlays in 1951 with at least one million new homes started and a greater output of stores, banks and office buildings.

THE LATEST BLS housing report makes it clear that home building will have clear sailing this year unless a sudden shortage of steel or copper develops in the next few months.

Barring such a development, output of 100,000 homes a month appears to be a good possibility almost until the end of summer. And this could very well help 1952 to become the second best housing year in history.

Due to sharp budget cuts, BLS is unable to tell the full story of what has been happening in housing during the past few months. Such data as housing prices and sizes are missing.

However, the agency says total housing output in April jumped ten per cent over March and 12 per cent over April a year ago. Private home building increased from 86,000 units in March to 98,500 in April.

Public housing fell from 12,000 to 9,500 dwellings but further increases in government housing operations are expected from now until the end of June.

BLS POINTS OUT that home building increased mainly in cities with populations ranging from 10,000 to 500,000. Among the larger communities about half were up and the other half down. Three cities showing the biggest increases were Washington, D.C., Dallas, Tex., and Louisville, Ky.

The nation's builders should have little trouble after July 1 in starting new grocery stores, shopping centers, garages, service stations, small night clubs and other similar projects.

National production authority officials have removed the ban on 47 types of amusement, recreational, and entertainment places and are providing more steel and aluminum for home building.

Some of the larger building projects, not connected with the defense program, probably will have to wait until fall before work can begin because materials are still scarce.

But officials say that by October there should be enough materials for builders to start practically any project they desire, providing, of course, that the copper situation does not worsen.

THE NATION'S TREMENDOUS defense plant construction program is now at its peak and demand for materials are expected to begin dropping.

That's one of the main reasons why NPA can relax controls. But production officials say owners of these brand new factories, plants and facilities are running into new problems.

Shortages of machinery, machine tools and other equipment probably will delay the opening of many of the new plants which will be completely built this year.

Nevertheless, construction is moving ahead and the Commerce Department estimates that outlays for industrial plant expansion now is running at a rate one-third higher than a year ago. In April 205 million dollars were spent by private firms on plant building programs.

Quizzing The Gardener

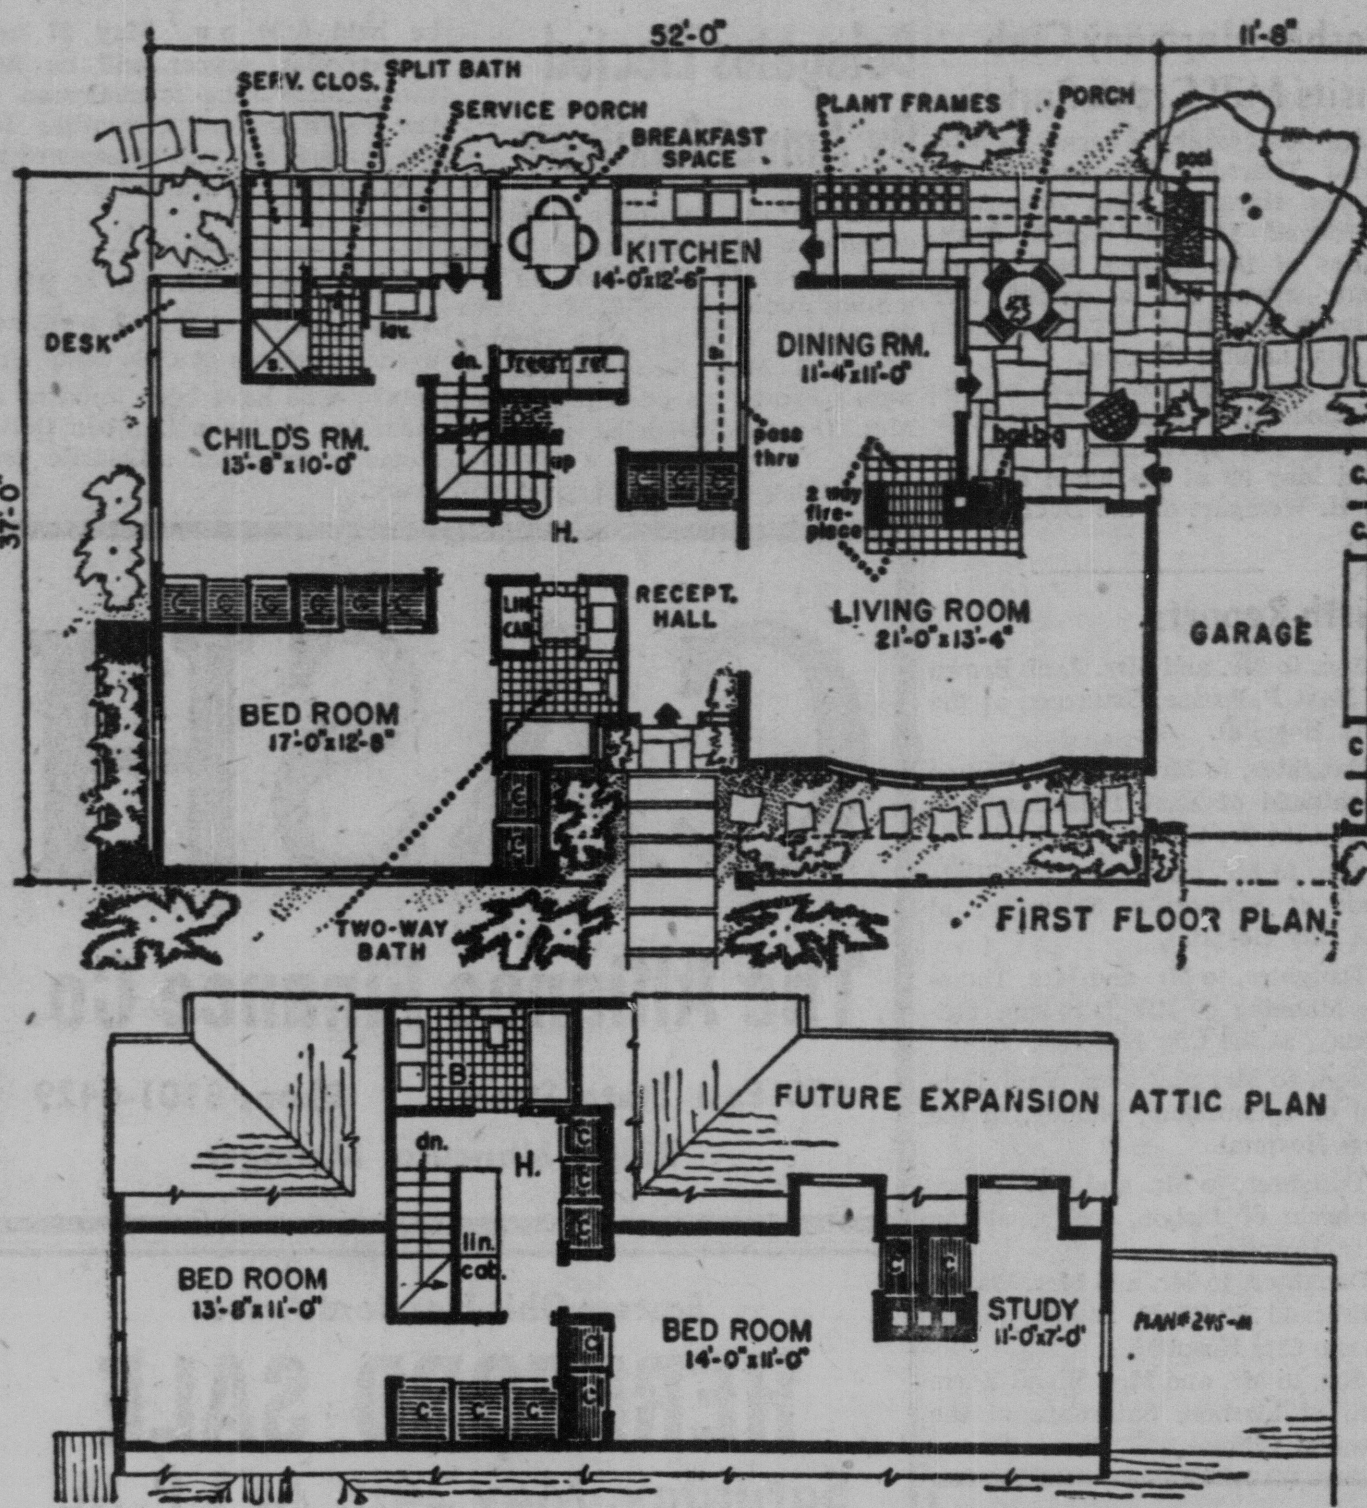

Q—Our lawn, in past years has been infested with colonies of ants. How can I eliminate them?—P.

A—The easiest and simplest means is to dust one of the preparations containing chlordane over the surface of the ant hill or ground they are working. Use either a 5 per cent dust, or spray with one tablespoon 50 per cent wettable chlordane powder to one gallon of water. A gallon of spray is sufficient to cover 50 square feet.

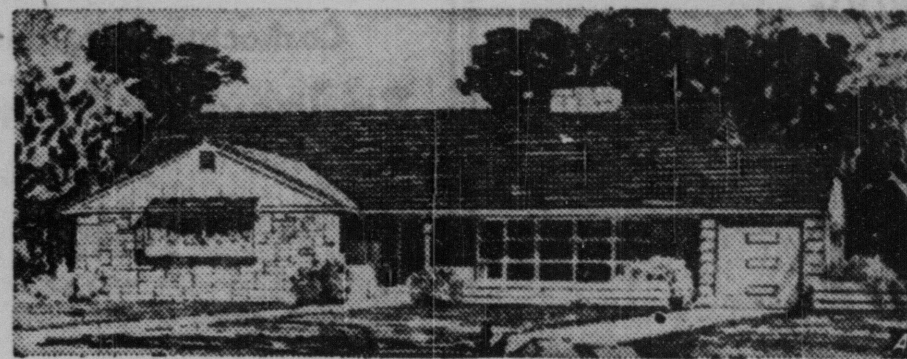

Q—What brings moles to our lawn and how do we get rid of them?

A—Moles are in your lawn because they are in search of food, which consists of grubs, worms and other soil insects. Get rid of these and you force the moles elsewhere in search of food. So—treat your entire lawn with chlordane, use one pound to a thousand square feet. Mix at the rate of one tablespoon to a gallon of water. A gallon covers about 75 square feet.

The largest herd of buffalo in North America, descendants of shaggy monsters which once roamed the continent by the millions, now totals between 12,000 and 15,000 animals.

A HOUSE OF IDEAS, this plan features comfortable living possibilities indoors and outdoors. Two compartmented bathrooms on the main floor and space for a third bath upstairs, where extra bedrooms and 10 additional closets can be finished off later, are among outstanding advantages. A lavatory in the rear service entry is handy for the children, the garden hobbyist and convenient to the kitchen. One chimney serves basement heating plant, two-way fireplace between living room and dining room and a barbecue fire-place on the garden porch. This is plan 245-M by Rudolph A. Matern, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N.Y. The house covers only 1,443 square feet, without porches and garage, yet has a capacity of seven rooms, three baths and 22 closets.

How To Fix It

Q—How should wide cracks between old floorboards be filled?

A—Glue in thin strips of wood, letting them project a little above the floor so they can be planed off when the glue dries.

Q—What causes paint to become discolored?

A—Various substances in the wood dissolve and come to the surface. To prevent it be sure wood is dry before painting.

Asphalt Roll Roof Increases Protection

Nineteen-inch selvage, double coverage, asphalt roll roofing is the heaviest asphalt roll roofing manufactured for farm service buildings and other utilitarian structures. A sheet of 19-inch selvage roofing is 36 inches wide. The mineral granules cover 17 inches of the width leaving 19 inches unsurfaced. When the roofing is applied, the 19-inch unsurfaced portion is lapped completely by the next sheet put in place.

Roofs with a pitch as low as 1 inch of rise for each horizontal foot can be roofed with 19-inch selvage roofing. It is the only prepared asphalt roofing recommended for a roof pitch this low.

Ohio is second only to Texas in the number of airports with 318 recognized landing fields.

Painting Hint

A galvanized household pail, set aside for decoration use, makes any paint job easier and neater. It eliminates spattering when stirring and mixing paint. A wire across the top makes it easy to wipe excess paint from the brush. After the job is done, rinse the pail with turpentine, rub clean with newspapers and store for the next paint task.

How To Fix It

Q—How should screens be protected from rust?

A—Use spar varnish for unpainted copper or bronze screens, or screen enamel for galvanized iron screens.

Spring, Summer Weed Kiling Jobs Never Quite Finished

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

Once planting activities are over and a schedule of spraying and dusting established, the principal activity of the gardener is confined to warfare on weeds.

By dictionary definition and with general consent by the gardening fraternity, a weed may be described as any plant which is growing out of place. Honeysuckle tumbling down a bank or sprawling over a stone wall may be just what the landscaper ordered, but when it seeks to establish itself in the vegetable garden, it is automatically marked for extermination.

For the small home owner and the weekend gardener, the list includes dandelions, plantain, docks, sorrel, purslane, chickweed, pigweed, ragweed, spurge, mullein, wild mustard, whistle and burdock. And, particularly in the East and the Midwest, that bane of the lawn-grower's existence, crabgrass.

MANY OF THESE have a disagreeable tendency to establish themselves securely in the lawn, completely fulfilling the dictionary definition, because what is sought for lawns are perennial grasses and, sometimes, clover. Weeds growing in the flower and vegetable beds are more easily handled.

Once upon a time, no one had a good word to say in favor of the weed, and they were ruthlessly exterminated. The classic case against weeds is that they deprive the wanted plants of needed food and moisture, that they frequently act as host plants for disease and insects.

Of more recent date, a few voices have been raised on behalf of weeds. Prof. Joseph A. Cocanour of the University of Oklahoma calls them "guardians of the soil."

HE CLAIMS AMONG other things that the controlled use of weeds helps prevent the sun from scorshing the earth and preserves moisture. The deep foraging roots of some of them bring up minerals and nitrogen from below the reach of some plants' roots so that it can be utilized.

For the small gardener, however, weeds are undesirable additions to the plant family if for no other reason than they give the gardens and lawns an untidy, unattractive and unkempt look. They are kept down by a number of techniques, including pulling them out by hand.

For the broad-leaved weeds which seem to establish themselves easily in the lawn there are the selective 2,4-D killers, chemical hormone preparations which should be used with utmost care and with strict attention to the manufacturer's instructions. While these spare the slender blades of wanted grass, the person applying the pre-hormone preparations which should be careful not to allow the wind to carry the material to trees or flowers.

Cultivating, either rooting out or chopping off the weeds below ground, is an effective way of keeping down the population. So is the practice of mulching between rows and around plants.

Kensington

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stephan of Canton announce the engagement of their daughter Margaret Ann Mezaros to Franklin A. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown of Kensington. The wedding will take place June 20, in the Kensington Christian Church.

Mothers were honored Sunday in the Christian Church when flowers were presented to the oldest mother Mrs. Cora Archibald, the youngest mother, Mrs. Doris McClellan and the mother with the largest family present, Mrs. Russell Fisher.

The primary class presented its teachers Mrs. Ruth Stewart and Mrs. Lois Kibler with flowers. Mrs. Robert Millikan was presented a flower by her class. One hundred and fifty-four were present at Sunday School.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKarns, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Orsborn were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hull.

Mr. and Mrs. Turk Mehnert are spending two weeks with Mrs. Olive Kibler and family in LaFollette, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee Challis visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Benson.

ANNUAL SPRING cleanup begins with the ridance of weeds but they seem to always return. Here a lawn owner attempts to do away with the pests.

Progressive Party Seeks Ballot Spot

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Progressive party, calling Ohio's election law subversive, says it will seek a court ruling to get its candidates on the November ballot.

Don Rothenberg of Cleveland, executive secretary of the party, said yesterday the Progressives will demand that the Ohio-American committee investigate the law as "the most subversive document in our state."

A petition for a ruling on the law's constitutionality probably will be filed in Franklin court within a month by the party's state committee, he said.

The law, he said, "prohibits independent candidates for president of the United States, and requires a half-million valid petition signatures to qualify a new political party."

Quizzing The Gardener

Q—The Pfizer juniors in our foundation planting are rapidly losing their color and examination discloses neither insects nor disease. What could be wrong as they are in good soil and a sunny location?

A—Most likely Spider Mites are the cause of the foliage turning a rusty-brown or lifeless color. These so-called spiders are really so tiny in size as to be almost invisible to the naked eye. They feed on the underside of the leaves.

Spray with Dimeite, Vaportone or similar chemical recommended for mites. Considerable success may be had by knocking the mites off the plants with a forceful spray of water directed from below.

Q—Please tell me what to do with tuberous-rooted begonias after the summer is over.—S. P.

A—Dig tuberous-rooted begonias just before frost and store them in dry sand or soil in a cool cellar over winter. In March or April they may be potted up and started into growth indoors for blooming outdoors.

Q—Many garden writers recommend using liquid manure. Since it is not offered by dealers in garden supplies, how is it made?

A—Liquid manure is easily and cleanly made by placing a peck of well decayed stable manure of commercial, pulverized, sheep, horse or cow manure in a burlap bag and hanging it just below the

Roofs, Chimney Top Farms' Danger Spots

Farm fires, which annually cause damage totalling more than $250,000,000 and take thousands of lives, stem chiefly from seven causes, according to a report by the fire protection department of Oklahoma A. and M. college. Here is the list:

1. Defective chimneys and heating appliances.
2. Combustible roofs.
3. Spontaneous ignition.
4. Lightning.
5. Inflammable liquids.
6. Misuse of electricity.
7. Careless smoking and use of matches.

The danger of chimney fires can be lessened by building the chimney from the ground up, not placing it on brackets, the college authorities advise. No wood should be laid in chimney walls and chimneys should be properly cleaned out each year.

Roof fires can be averted by using a non-combustible roofing material such as asbestos-cement shingles.

Moist hay or grain is the chief source of spontaneous ignition. If heat is detected in storage bins or lofts, the temperature can be checked by dropping down a thermometer through a pipe driven into the hay. If the reading is 160 degrees F. or more, the hay should be moved so it can cool. Water should be available for emergency use during the moving process.

Plywood Paneling Of Walls Proves Protection, Decoration

There is nothing particularly difficult about installing plywood panels over old plaster walls. It requires only an elementary wood-working knowledge to achieve pleasing results.

Plywood paneling has much to recommend its use to cover hopelessly cracked walls or merely for the modernistic effect.

First, measure the surface to be covered and give the dimensions to your lumberman. He should be able to estimate the number of sheets, kind and thickness of plywood needed to fill the bill for you.

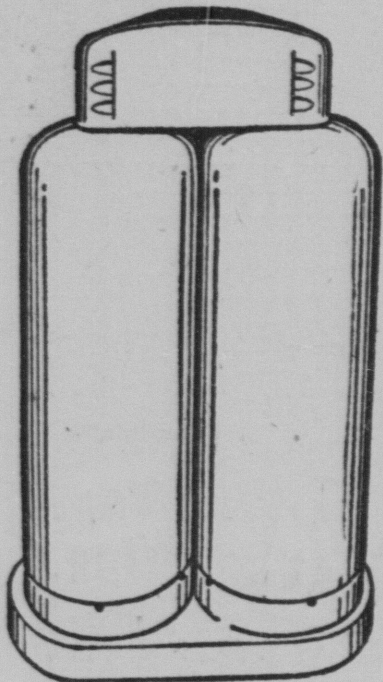

Obtain from him a number of "furring strips" measuring about three-quarter inch by two inches, which you apply to the walls horizontally and about 12 inches apart. Remove baseboards and moldings from the walls first and put double furring strips at the bottom, where the baseboard will be nailed after plywood is installed.

MEASURE THE DISTANCE from floor to ceiling where each separate plywood sheet will be mounted and cut them accordingly to run full length from floor to ceiling. You must use care in cutting plywood to prevent "buried" edges and split corners. It should be cut with a fine-toothed back saw held at a slight angle to the surface.

Plywood wall sheets need not necessarily be equal in width, for a random pattern is quite attractive, or alternate wide and narrow strips can be used. After all sheets are cut to length, lay them out on the wall to decide on widths and spacings.

installation. The best way to plane plywood, to avoid splitting corners, is to use a finely set plane and work from the ends to center of the edge.

At this time you've begun to scratch your head over a perplexing problem—how to hide joints between the plywood sheets. The best answer is—don't. Two common treatments of this problem are to either batten the joints or bevel them so two sheets meet in a V.

Now you have only to nail the pieces into position, using brads about one and one-quarter inches long. Nail at each furring strip, working up and down the edges, and set nail heads under the surface.

Nail the old baseboard back in place if it fits the treatment of the room, and apply molding to cover the joint between ceiling and plywood.

Plywood paneling with a painted surface, stained and waxed finish, with other finishes or left natural, looks equally attractive.

PICTORIAL SUGGESTION, above, will help make easy the job of covering your walls with plywood paneling, for protection and beauty.

Door Canopy Keeps Out Rain, Helps Improve Looks Of House

If you've ever stepped out of your back door during or shortly after a rain and had a pint or so of water suddenly fall on your head and run down inside your clothes, you'll be interested in these suggestions for keeping rain out of the top of the doorway.

The simplest arrangement is a miniature awning made of wood or metal with a trough on the lower edge which will divert the water to either side of the door.

These can be bought from your hardware store or made at home. A sheet metal one is easy to secure to a frame house. Just be sure that the top edge is back under the lap of the siding so that water won't get in behind it.

ON A BRICK or stone house it is more difficult in that you must drive a wooden dowel between the bricks to take the fastenings. This means using a star drill to make the hole for the dowel, also that the finished job must be caulked.

A full canopy makes the most attractive solution to the problem but entails considerable more labor and material. If you prefer to build this type, be sure the canopy is wider than the door opening by a foot on each side to give more protection from a driving rain. If you have some shingles left over from the roofing of the house, they will make the canopy look less like an afterthought.

THE CONSTRUCTION should be possible for obvious reasons. Two triangles form the ends. When the roof edges are notched to fit the face of the siding, they may be secured to an anchor plank on the house. The roof sheathing, of light material, may then be applied. For more support, attractive braces may be run from a point about two-thirds of the way out the canopy down to the siding and fastened through into the studding.

While a drain along the leading edge would be necessary in the full canopy just described as well as in the smaller type, it would not be necessary in case you prefer a peaked type. You'll have to decide which type suits your style of house. Perhaps you have a paneled or natural-finished gable on the front of the house and wish to match it. In any event, this addition to your house will be well worth the effort.

Merchants Win Fifth Straight, 12-4

Cosgarea, Kachner Yield 6 Hits As Locals Down East Palestine

The Salem Merchants won their fifth game of the season last night as they whipped East Palestine on the latter's diamond, 12-4. Undeclared in five Columbiana County League games, the Merchants rapped 12 hits behind the pitching of Jim Cosgarea and Dave Kachner, who gave up six bingles, four runs, a walk and struck out eight batters.

Cosgarea got credit for the victory, his second of the year, after hurling six innings. He allowed four hits and two runs to the East Palestine nine and was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth. Kachner relieved him and yielded two bingles and gave up two runs in his four innings.

PAT MANCUSO led the Merchant hitting attack with four hits in four trips to the plate. He rapped out two triples and a pair of singles. Kirby Laughlin and Jack Oesch managed two hits in three trips. Laughlin was on base five times and scored four tallies.

The Merchants will tangle with New Waterford Wednesday at Centennial Park at 6:15 p.m. The Salem nine will be idle in County League play Sunday but are attempting to schedule an independent game.

Other contests yesterday saw Lisbon route New Waterford, 16-7, and East Liverpool edge Springfield, 6-5.

Illini Lead Big Ten After Winning Two

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois won two out of three games in an unprecedented tripleheader at Ohio State Saturday to maintain its Big Ten baseball pennant drive with a one-game lead over second-place Michigan.

Michigan's chances to keep pace were jolted when rain cancelled its doubleheader against eighth-place Purdue at Ann Arbor.

Ohio State defeated Illinois 6-3 Saturday morning but the Illini came back for 7-1 and 7-3 afternoon victories.

Northwestern swept a twin bill from the Gophers 12-6, with 'six extra base blows, and 6-2 behind Sophomore George Barvenchak's four-hit pitching.

Wisconsin collected 13 hits to trim Iowa 7-4, but the Hawkeyes took the nightcap 5-2.

Michigan State won a pair from Indiana. The Spartans rallied for three runs in the seventh inning to take the opener, 5-3. A five-run sixth gave them the afterpiece, 8-2.

Shantz, Stanley Leading Major League Hurlers; Indians Split Twin Bill With Philadelphia

(By The Associated Press)

Little Bobby Shantz and Big Gerry Staley, a pair of first-rate pitchers with second division teams, are setting a terrific pace for the other 164 Major League hurlers.

Shantz, the 5-7 Philadelphia Athletics' southpaw, yesterday became the first American League pitcher to win six games as he shut out the Cleveland Indians, 2-0. Staley, six-foot St. Louis Cardinals' righthander, became the National League's first seven-game winner as he felled the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3.

The 26-year-old Shantz now owns more than half of the seventh-place Athletics' 11 triumphs. Staley, two years older, has registered exactly half of the fifth place Cardinals' 14 victories.

Although 13 pitchers won 20 or more games last year, neither Shantz nor Staley were among them. Bobby bagged 18 wins in 1951 and Staley notched 19. They appear to be headed for their first 20-game seasons in the big leagues.

However, those who belittle the fast April get-away in the Major League baseball pennant races should look today at the Indians.

The Tribe has been in first place for 10 days and leads the American League by two and a half games. But only because Cleveland won seven in a row at the outset.

Yesterday the Indians traded shutouts with the Philadelphia Athletics. In the first game Shantz shut out the Tribe 2-0 on three hits. Mike Garcia scattered nine singles to win the nightcap 6-0.

THREE TIMES WITHIN the week Cleveland has broken even in two-game series — with New York, Washington and then the A's. Without that sensational April beginning, the Indians would be teetering on the edge of the second division today, with the season one-fifth gone.

Shantz, a tiny, blonde southpaw, "had a pretty good curve" yesterday, he said, and he mixed it with a sneaky fast one to win his fifth in a row. He became the first hurler in the loop to post six victories.

Garcia, a giant, dark complexioned righthander, "put it down the middle with all I've got" in the tough spots. His shutout dropped his earned-run average to a mere one run a game.

Kennedy, who played third because Al Rosen has an injured thigh muscle, drove home the third Cleveland run in the fourth with a long fly after singles by Dale Mitchell and Easter.

In the eighth Harry Simpson led off with a double, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Elmer Valo's miff of Ray Boone's fly. A single by Doby, a walk to Mitchell and a double by Kennedy plated the last two runs of the rally.

BOSTON'S RED SOX remained in third place with a 7-4 victory over Detroit while the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns divided a doubleheader. Vic Raschi

Legion Completes Baseball Trip Plans

Plans have been completed for the American Legion-sponsored baseball excursion June 22 and tickets are expected to go on sale at drugstores and newsstands here this week. Anthony Masinando is chairman of the arrangement committee.

A train containing a minimum of 12 passenger coaches will transport the fans to Cleveland for the double-header game between Cleveland and Boston. Cost of the tickets, which include round-trip transportation and admittance to the game, is $5.75 for adult and $3.75 for children under 12.

The Legion has invited each of the city's civic and service clubs to participate in the program by reserving cars for their fans.

hurler a five-hit, 8-1 triumph for New York after the Browns had eked out a 4-3 decision in the first game.

Brooklyn took undisputed possession of first place in the National League, thrashing the Chicago Cubs, 7-2, as the New York Giants were kept idle because of rain. The Giants were scheduled to play two games with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rain also washed away the scheduled twin bill between the Cincinnati Reds and Braves in Boston.

Brooklyn collected only four hits but three Bruin hurlers handed out 10 free passes and hit two batters to set up all Brooklyn runs. Unbeaten Preacher Roe helped win his fourth game with a pair of run-scoring singles.

DICK SISLER, former Philly, helped the Cards nip his former mates by belting in two runs with a pair of singles. Staley had a 4-0 lead until the ninth, when Willie Jones shelled him from the mound with a three-run homer.

Veteran Vern Stephens, starting at Shortstop for the first time since 1950, smashed a three-run homer, scored twice, was the middle man in two double plays, and handled nine chances flawlessly in Boston's win over Detroit.

Home runs by Bob Cerv, Irv Noren and Gil McDougald made Raschi's task easier as the Yankee righthander pitched his first complete game of the season for his third victory. A pair of former Yankees — Clint Courtney and Duane Pillette — won the opener for the Browns. Courtney's single with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth snapped a 3-3 tie and gave Pillette his fourth win.

It gives this old familiar sign new meaning

Most of the time, only two of these barrels are needed — and they feed such a thrifty mixture that you use less gasoline at 40 mph than you'd formerly use at 30.

But — when you want a quick burst of eager power — you can double the air supply as well as the gasoline feed — and come up with the highest horsepower that Buick's Fireball 8 Engine ever delivered.

Of course, any man who's buying a car as fine as a ROADMASTER wants a lot more than extra miles from a tankful of gas.

He wants the distinction of extra room, extra comfort, richer fabrics and all the other refinements that make a car truly fine.

He wants to ride with solid security, confident poise and lordly silence.

And, while he may not admit it, he yearns for a car that's full of fun.

All this, we promise you, and more will be yours when you take the responsive wheel of a ROADMASTER.

How about doing that — soon?

THEY SERVE WHEREVER SOLDIERS FIGHT

WOMAN'S PLACE is not in the home. If you don't believe it, ask any member of the Women's Army Corps, which is celebrating its first decade of service in May, 1952. Since the WAC was created (known then as the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps), its women in uniform have performed every Army task except combat. They have filled more than 200 different types of jobs in 400 bases in America and in every theater of operation where United States soldiers fought. First group of WACs to serve outside the United States landed in Algeria, North Africa, in 1943 and from there they soon spread to the European and Asiatic theaters. WACs attended many of the war's historic moments. They were at the Big Three meetings at Yalta and Potsdam; some worked on the atomic bomb project; others saw the German surrender at Reims and the Japanese surrender at Baguio, Philippines. Since that time, the WACs, numbering some 11,000 officers and enlisted women, are on the job with occupation duties in the Far East and Germany as well as other posts in the world. WACs are advancing into higher pay brackets through 18 career fields that include photography, radio communications, food service, personnel and finance. They study to prepare themselves to meet any emergencies they may have to face at home or abroad.

Snead Claims Plays Bad; Wins Tourney

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (AP)—Since January, Sam Snead has won four golf tournaments, failed to win two others only because of penalties, and has collected something over $13,000 in prize money. But he still isn't satisfied with his playing.

Snead, apparently unimpressed by his close squeak in the dramatic finish of the $15,000 round-robin tournament at Wykagyl yesterday, pocketed the winner's $3,000 check and complained:

"This was the worst I've ever played to win a tournament. I don't mean any disrespect to the others, but if I had caught different pairings it might have been different. I didn't drive very well and my irons weren't very good. I did make some wonderful recovery shots that gave me short putts."

If Snead was off his game this week, the galleries didn't know it. For five rounds he was 12 strokes under par, with a 90-hole total of 348.

The drama of the tournament was packed into the final round when Cary Middlecoff, starting 14 points behind Snead, whittled Sam's point margin to two coming up to the last hole—a 487-yard, par five affair. Snead whacked his second shot to the green and got down for a birdie four. Middlecoff, off in the hough in a pile of beer cans, chipped to about 10 feet from the pin and sank his putt, but he couldn't gain a point.
